Short Video from Kuaishou

State 1: Content Extraction

The video shows an Al-generated female character narrating the content, showing images of nuclear sewage discharge and volcanic eruptions in Japan, and the video ends with a space filled with Chinese calligraphy characters.

The content of this video may be suspected of offensive and cyberbullying speech, and user comments on the video need to be introduced for additional judgment.

State 5: Final Summary

In summary, there is a bottom line problem with this video, which is labeled "Offensive and cyberbullying Speech".

State 2: Video Content Analysis

The headline "#Japanese people who live a good life #Japan discharges nuclear wastewater #Japan is unforgivable #Japan surrenders don't forget the national shame" carries obvious hate speech, and the OCR reads "Japan is going to be finished. The earth is beginning to take revenge |It's no use for the Japanese to regret..." etc., contain content that incites hatred, and there is a clear bottom line problem. Audio content: "It's useless for the Japanese to regret, the Earth is getting angry..." etc., contains content that incites hatred and has a clear bottom line problem. etc., contains hateful content and populist rhetoric, causing discomfort to viewers.

State 4: User Feedback Analysis

Comments such as "Let the volcano come harder!" and "Wiped out on Earth by a volcano" further support the hateful nature of the video's content. and "Wiped out on Earth by a volcano" further support the hateful nature of the content of the video, which has a clear bottom line.

