Short Video from Kuaishou

State 1: Content Extraction

The video shows two women in bathing suits interacting with uniformed armed police station personnel. This interaction may be perceived by some viewers as disrespectful to the armed police officers on guard duty.

State 3: Interim Check

The content of this video may be suspected of inappropriate behavior, and user comments on the video need to be introduced for additional judgment.

State 5: Final Summary

In summary, there is a bottom line problem with this video, which is labeled "Criminal Behavior".

State 2: Video Content Analysis

The OCR includes the words "Chinese Armed Police". These suggests that the location where the video was filmed may be suggest that the location where the video was filmed may be related to the Chinese Armed Forces, but there is no obvious underlining issue. The ASR content is "null", no speech content is recognized in the video. Therefore, it is not possible to further analyze the ASR content.

State 4: User Feedback Analysis

Most of the comments expressed dissatisfaction with the behavior in the video, and considered such interactions disrespectful to the behavior of armed police officers on guard duty. For example, some comments mentioned "claptrap", "disrespect to the sentries" and "support the official blocking of the number". Some comments thought that the dress of the woman in the video was uncivilized, affecting her personal image and that of the armed police soldiers. - Some commented that the dress of the women in the video was uncivilized, affecting their personal image and that of the armed police soldiers have the armed police soldiers.

